Two Pen - Bound After Hearings

In District Court

Two men were sent to the State Penitentiary in the past week after hearings in Milam District Court.

The probation of Howard Ray Karl, 19, of Holland was revoked by District Judge W. C. Wallace after evidence showed Karl and another man burglarized a Temple drive-in grocery.

Karl had drawn a probated five-year sentence upon conviction of burglarizing the Oak Club July 10, 1961.

Dist. - Atty. Jack Prescott Monday filed a petition in District Court to revoke the five-year probation since Karl admitted to Temple authorities of burglarizing the Temple Store.

Last Thursday, James Rucker, 27, Negro, was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary upon conviction of stealing a Chevrolet pickup belonging to Harry Rogers, Jr., of Cameron and burglarizing Rogers building, Feb. 7, 1961.

Ideal Hatchery's distributor in Spain. The other men are dealers in the Cameron concern's baby chicks. Fuchs and his wife went on to Greece, Italy and Belgium in a tour of Europe.

3,000 EXPECTED AT YOE FIELD FOR 1A FEATURE

Two high-powered 1A football teams are meeting at Cameron's Yoe Field 8 p. m. Thursday to decide the regional championship in Central Texas.

With clear weather, 3,000 people are expected.

Powerful Connally, winner over Franklin 20-6, in a bi-district playoff last week, collides with Milam County's Thorndale Bulldogs in the Turkey Day playoff.

Thorndale amassed a 6-3-1 record out of a rough and tumble conference with Rogers, Rosebud and several other teams.

Officials made no predictions on the outcome as the two 1A powers prepared for the showdown in Cameron Thursday night.

Hosting the visiting eleven is the Cameron Chamber of Commerce. Coaches from Connally and Thorndale met in Cameron with Chamber officials over the weekend and elected to play the regional clash here.

Thorndale defeated Shiner, champions of District 24A, at LaGrange last week. Thorndale is District 23A's championship team.

Meanwhile 19AA Hearn last week smashed Georgetown, 33-6, to continue an undefeated march in AA ranks. Hearn's toughest game to date was the 12-7 squeaker over Cameron about three weeks ago.

But Cameron will see a lot of football action Thursday night.

Probable starting lineups will be

Officials Urge Greater Interest In Young People

The Cameron Ministerial Association and city and county law enforcement officers have urged greater parental interest in the youth of Cameron.

Meeting recently to discuss parents' complaints' alleged sale of alcoholic beverages to minors and showing of objectionable motion pictures, the Ministerial Association urged parents and all citizens to take a positive interest in the moral welfare of the community's young people.

County - Atty. Jack Prescott and Police Chief Elvin Hoskins met with Cameron ministers at the First Christian Church November 6, officials reported.

Law officials assured the Ministerial Association they would take every measure possible to prevent the sale of alcoholic beverages to minors and solve other moral problems in the community.

But the basic responsibility for the moral welfare of Cameron young people begins in the home," one minister said. "We believe that through the efforts of all our citizens these problems can and will be solved."

Salvation Army

Drive Tops Goal

The Salvation Army Fund Drive has exceeded its goal of $1,500 with deposits to date of $1,573 and several workers still unreported, according to County Judge Don G. Humble, drive chairman.

Humble praised the efforts of fund drive workers as well as the cooperation of Cameron residents which made the drive a success.

He stressed that going over the top on this drive would insure a good program for local Salvation Army work as well as an aid to the state-wide services such as the camp for boys, a home and hospital for unwed mothers, disaster service and others.

Fuchs Make Tour Through Europe

TOUR SPANISH FARMS

Tours were made of several poultry farms during the 10 day visit in the Madrid area. Then Mr. and Mrs. Fuchs left Spain for Athens, Greece via Rome.

In Athens they met with an agricultural organization interested in obtaining an Ideal franchise, studied the possibilities offered by this foreign land, and visited a poultry farm, one of the few in Greece.

From Greece they traveled to Brussels, Belgium, by way of Rome and Paris, spending one day in Paris. In Brussels they met with a representative of Ideal's Belgium franchised hatchery, leaving Brussels by Jet for New York and Dallas.

Commenting on their trip Fuchs noted that the people of Europe were very hospitable, and eager for the American dollar. He said the poultry development there is about 15 to 20 years behind that in the United States and, three fore, offers a great opportunity to American breeders.

SPANIARDS HOSPITABLE

He described the Spanish people as perhaps the most hospitable, "Upon our departure from Spain, for example, my wife was presented with a large bouquet of flowers before boarding the plane for Greece." He also noted that most of the travel in Spain is by donkey, bicycle and motor bike, adding that it was not uncommon to see a man and woman traveling together on a motor bike.

Greece was described as far behind Spain in development. Eggs are considered a delicacy there. Fuchs added "In practically all countries in Europe, farming is done in an old, medieval way with a wooden plow and oxen. Some of the more up-to-date farmers have mules instead of oxen, and a very few have tractors. These farms are owned by wealthy people."

In Madrid they were met by the Ideal Hatcheries franchised distributor for Spain and had an opportunity to visit with his wife and son before traveling by car to Valladolid, Spain.

In Valladolid, about 150 miles from Madrid, they attended a National Poultry Convention and met with most of the 21 hatcherymen who hold Ideal subfranchise contracts.

A survey sheet was being sent out by the Chamber office, asking whether the businessman was for leaving the meters, taking them out on a trial basis or taking them out permanently.

Chamber Manager Jack DuBois said the survey followed the Chamber Board's review of a recommendation from the retail trade and development committee to take meters out permanently.

The Chamber's retail trade committee, a number of downtown merchants and the City Council and Mayor Coleman Duncum discussed the meter situation last week.

Further action on the meter question would depend on the outcome of the survey, DuBois said. The City Council was to consider a recommendation from the Board, but deferred action until the survey is complete, city officials said.

All businessmen having meters in front of, by or adjacent to their premises will be surveyed, DuBois said.

The Herald received a letter from Mr. Max Reynolds, of Houston, this week, telling of a new biography coming out about Clark Gable, the film star, who died recently. The book was written by his sister-in-law, Inez Cocke, who is on the staff of Walt Disney's story department in Hollywood.

Reynolds will be remembered as the grandson of Francis Marion Smith, a merchant in Cameron's early days and also a county official during the administration of Richard Coke.

Reynolds wrote some articles for The Herald when J. B. White was editor. And he is writing a review of Gable's biography for The Herald.

Material for the book was provided by Gable's secretary, Jean Garceau.

It is not too often that a weekly gets a local twist to review a book of potential national stature. To be sure, Gable was one of Hollywood's all-time favorites with such memorable Academy Award roles as Rhett Butler in "Gone With The Wind."

The City Council Tuesday heard progress reports on streets and drainage and approved the purchase of 300 feet of hose for the new city fire truck.

Public Works Supt. J. B. Earle reported graveling work in five locations:

- On Eighth Street from Washington to Lamar.
- County Line Road.
- On Karnes Avenue from 16th Street to County Line Road.
- On Harding Avenue from 10th to 12th Street.
- On W. Sixth Street from Orchard to City Limits.
- At Santa Fe Depot from Battel to Austin Streets.

He also noted that profile work on North Houston has been completed and work has begun on measuring the profile and base on E. Seventh Street.

Other projects to be completed, Earle said, would be drainage work at W. Sixth and Jefferson, opening a drainage ditch from W. Eighth St. to W. Sixth St. and some shoulder work on College Avenue.

State Rep. Murray Watson, candidate for state senator for the Bell - Milam - McLennan district, Tuesday urged a reduction of unneeded state services to pay for modern needs.

Speaking before a combined civic group of Rotarians, Lions and Kiwanians, Watson listed three rules for considering any tax or spending measure:

ONE - Is it good for the state?

TWO - Is it fair to the majority?

THREE - Is it fiscally sound?

Watson was introduced by John Henderson, Jr., before the civic club audience at First Methodist Fellowship Hall.

Tom Boyd, president of the host Cameron Lions Club, was master of ceremonies at the annual Thanksgiving joint meeting of Cameron civic clubs. Narvie Caperton was program chairman.

Watson opined that Texas does not have a fair system of taxation in selective taxes, calling them archaic and outmoded.

"I think taxing is a one-way street if we don't cut unnecessary costs to get the maximum benefit from our tax money."

Watson said. Citing his candidacy for the state senate, he said he would use his three-question test before voting on any tax or spending measure.

Watson pointed out that Texas' agencies require more revenue to maintain services in education, highways, welfare and other phases of state government.

He said "we are going to have more taxes," but that outdated services can be eliminated.

In closing remarks, Watson said that world affairs since Russia's Texas government now has a position in world affairs since Russia's Khrushchev is attempting to weaken the structure of the United States at every level.

About 80 members of the Cameron civic clubs attended the meeting.

HANKS VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Hawk and children spent the past weekend at Bryan with Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hawk and children and other relatives. The Hawk brothers went on a deer hunt and both were lucky in getting a deer.

Public Works Supt. J. B. Earle reported graveling work in five locations:

The Council approved the purchase of 300 feet of hose for the new city fire truck, to be delivered in December.

Police Chief Elvin Hoskins announced that Patrolman Edwin Brockebush has submitted his resignation effective November 31 to take the post of city marshal at Rosebud.

Councilmen discussed with Hoskins the employment of a patrolman to fill a vacancy in the department.

Also considered was an extension of a six-inch waterline to the northwest corner of the city limits for future growth in that area of the city.

The Council discussed briefly the meter question which the Board of Directors of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce voted Tuesday to survey all merchants having meters in front of, by or adjacent to their business houses.

Mayor Coleman Duncum said the councilmen met with about 20 downtown merchants and the Cameron Chamber's retail trade committee last week.

Milam ASCS

Report

By Milam County ASCS

According to Acting Secretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy, the 1961 Feed Grain Program was a success. Feed grains consumption during the coming year, he said, will exceed 1961 production, reversing a long - time trend. And the cost of the new program is expected to be considerably below the savings which will result for taxpayers.

All final payments have been made to Milam County participants in the 1961 feed grain program. Total payments made to co-operators is $710,496.00 and the total number of farms participating in the 1961 feed grain program in Milam County is 1144.

The final total acreage of 1961 feed grains diverted under the program in Milam County is 33,373 acres and represents approximately 272,904 bushels of corn and 4,314,087 hundred weight of grain sorghum not produced in 1961, based on the normal average yield for the county. The total acreage which feed grain farmers intended to divert came to 34,162 or just 789 acres more than the diverted acreage actually measured in the final analysis. The total feed grain base in Milam County is 103,535 acres in round figures and multiplied by the maximum diversion of 40 per cent of the base, comes to a total of 41,414 acres, representing the maximum feed grain acreage that could have been diverted in Milam County. This means that Milam County feed grain farmers withheld from production approximately 81 per cent of the total feed grain acreage in Milam County that could have gone into the program.

In Milam County, farmers had placed the following quantities of 1961 crop commodities under the price support program through October 31, 1961: Corn, 35,681 bushels and grain sorghums, 177,816 hundredweight. This compares with a state total of 430,870 bushels of corn and 12,648,183 hundredweight of grain sorghums placed on loan through September 30, 1961, according to the November 2nd issue of Texas ASCS Information.

Word was received in the county office this week that 1961 feed grain diverted acreage may be grazed now instead of waiting until January 1, 1962 and without prior authority from the County Committee.

Thanksgiving Day will be a happier, more meaningful day...

for a "thank-you visit" to your Church or Synagogue —

It's a story we all know and love—the first Pilgrim Thanksgiving. The excitement in their little homes must have been pretty much as it is today—the tantalizing smells of roast turkey and pumpkin pie—the bustle and rush of eager children—it must have been a wonderful day!

But before the Pilgrims sat down to their feast they observed the true meaning of Thanksgiving. They all gathered together in their meetinghouse to give thanks for the good they had received, for survival through a long year of hardship, and to pray for the strength and courage to their faith in this strange, new land.

This Thanksgiving, why not take your family to your house of worship. A quiet hour of prayer and thanks will make your holiday so much more meaningful.

Wherever you are... whatever your beliefs may be... take time to offer your words of thanks... just as the Pilgrims did, more than 300 years ago.

Find the strength for your life...

Short kid gloves complemented the brief lace sleeves.

A lot of matching lace held a tiered, circular veil of imported French illusion, fingertip length. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white gardenias.

Dear Sister:

Dear Sister:

You must hear the episode of me and the Black Forest Cake. You remember my telling you of my new friend, Mary Sears, society editor of the Ft. Worth Star - Telegram? Well, that time I was in Dallas - and on one of my dieting sprees - which turned out a spree all right, but more eating spree than dieting! Any-way, Mary introduced me to this perfectly scrumptious five inch high Black Forest Cake served at the Baker Hotel. She told me she had a recipe for it and would send it to me.

I was hopeful it would arrive in time for me to use at the bridge club on Wednesday. All I can say, now, is thank goodness it didn't.

It came on Saturday. After I got through shopping for its ingredients and the chores, I got started to making it about 2:30 p. m. First off, I was thrown into pandemon-ium by the amounts. It was a foreign recipe. Imagine me with no scales in the house other than bath scales, trying to figure out five ounces of sugar, one - half ounce of flour and all such as that. Twas not only foreign, it was down right Greek to me.

Finally, I rummaged around in the present drawer and found a decorative kitchen tile with such information, or enough, to enable me to figure out the measurements.

First, I set the ten ounces of egg whites to beat in the mixer and a the same time grated the almonds and my fingers. In walks friend husband who says to me "Have you eaten yet? I haven't". What can you do with a guy like that? So, right in the middle of cake making, I stop and cook a steak and its pertinent side dishes.

Finally, I get the egg white mix-ture poured into three wax paper-lined ten inch cake pans - which I had gone all over town to find. The directions said cook in a 250 degree oven for an hour and a half. At the end of an hour, if I had cooked it any longer, lordy knows what it would have looked like. I grabbed the pans out and left them to cool. I had forgot that it said to remove from pans and cool, but by that time I was in a hurry, hurry. Had to dash off to a tea.

Got that little item off although it took longer than I thought. Go-ing down the receiving line with ten hostesses and ten honorees takes longer than you think.

Back home, started whipping the cream, set the gelatine in hot wa-ter to dissolve. While giving my un-divided attention to the task of removing the cooked egg mixture from the "prepared" pans, the cream turned to butter. Off to the store I go for more cream, started it to whipping, turned to find the gelatine hard as a rock.

As time takes care of everything, I finally got all the steps per-formed and a semblance of a cake to cool and set. To be sure, it was only two inches high, and I ex-pected it to taste about as great. But would you believe it, after all I went through and regardless of its looks, it was palatable beyond expectations.

I have made it several times since and always have trouble of a short in some step or another, but it is always edible. It may be I'll never achieve a five inch high cake, but eating it is doing a good job of making me five inches wider.

Do you think I should thank Mary Sears for doing that to me? Or shall I just sigh and set a new goal in life: To make a Black Forest Cake without a hitch and come out with perfection of the con-fec-tion?

Love,
Sister

Now's Time To Talk Progress...

It seems to a good time to consider the real progress that Cameron has made in the past year.

Yes, progress! There have been some setbacks, but taken in stride with the gains that have been Cameron's, the ledger shows black ink.

STREETS and DRAINAGE -- Completion of E. 11th Street paving, another project replete with new asphalt paving and curbing. And now the City has put down a test block of Alcoa Slurry seal which if satisfactory, can be applied to streets wherever the base is firm, but only the top surface needs repair.

Pump stations have been put into operation in northwest Cameron to give that area sewage service. And drainage improvements and grades of streets are getting more attention all the time.

CONSTRUCTION -- A new hospital, a rest home abuilding, a drive-in bank, at least a dozen new homes, clearing away of numerous old frame buildings that have served their usefulness.

IMPROVEMENTS -- Relocation of the Cameron Library, which has already felt the increased interest that goes with good location and adequate facilities.

ATTRACTION -- Just this week, Cameron Chamber officials outthusted other Cen-Tex towns to host the regional 1A game between Connally of Waco and Thorndale, that southwest Milam town. And Western Week was held, drew crowds in what would have been an otherwise conventional July.

Announcement has already been made for the annual Cameron Christmas parade, December 1.

PROSPECTS -- Perhaps the largest single project which will affect the future of Milam County, the Laneport Dam Project, is just two seps away from first stages of construction. A $24 million reservoir -- to control flooding of Little River, to provide industrial water, to create a lake capable of tremendous tourist attraction -- can some day be a servant of Central Texas and benefactor to Cameron, first city of any size downstream from the Laneport site.

These are hardly the signs of mediocrity. These are the signs of tremendous potential, awakening more and more to the demands of the fast-moving '60's.

We have lost a theatre by fire, lost our National Guard company to active duty, allowed our interest to flag in the North Milam United Fund. But these are temporary setbacks that will pass with time.

Disillusionment is easier to find than cheerful outlook. But we cannot base our plans for the future on the setbacks of the past. It must be on the successes, Cameron is not alone in its struggles for growth, for improvements. But it is one of the few cities of its size and economy to face the hard facts, dismiss the froth and frill of baseless hope and keep moving forward on some front at some time all the time.

Whatever we do may appear to be minor, but it is doing. An up-and-coming town moves. Big things happen where there is movement.

SALES TAX INFO

Questions concerning the application of the State Sales Tax to agricultural production goods are still numerous, reports C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist. He says some time will be required for the State Comptroller to issue rulings covering the multitude of individual items where "gray" areas exist in the statute's meaning.

YULETIDE TRIO

A perfect Yuletide trio -- turkey, cranberries and broiler -- fryers--share the top spot on the USDA's December list of plentiful foods. Also in abundance will be pork, apples, fresh grapefruit, pecans, almonds, honey, vegetable fats and oils, peanuts and peanut products, pinto beans and rice. By using these foods extensively, homemakers can serve tasty, attractive meals that reflect joys of the season, suggests the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

REBECCA FUCHS HONORED

Rebecca Lynn Fuchs was honored with a party November 13 on her eighth birthday. Entertainment for the party featured films taken by the honorees parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Fuchs, on their recent trip to Spain. Guests enjoyed a three tiered birthday cake which was placed on a musical cake plate and jump rope favors.

Spears Assails Banking Leaders

AUSTIN -- Rep. Franklin Spears of San Antonio says that leaders in the banking business are blocking attempts by the Special House Committee appointed to investigate enforcement of the Texas Escheat laws.

Spears claims that officers of the Texas Bankers Association have advised members to ignore a questionnaire the committee sent to every banking institution in the state. But he says hundreds of banks and savings and loan companies are cooperating in spite of the advice.

He points out that while banks and savings and loan companies are exempt from reporting procedures set out by the 57th Legislature, they are included in the escheat laws.

House Committee's questionnaire asked for non-confidential statistical information to try to determine the number of abandoned accounts. Representative Spears says the study will be very valuable, if enough banking institutions cooperate.

Meanwhile, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson filed the first suit under the new escheat act. Suit seeks to recover $1,094,150 in stock and dividends held for the unknown owner of a missing railroad trust certificate.

The missing certificate was first issued in 1888, but Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry Braswell says no one has been able to establish ownership since.

Suit was filed in the 101st District Court in Dallas against Mercantile National Bank of Dallas, trustees of the Texas Pacific Land Trust, and various claimants to the missing certificate.

Wilson's suit alleges that the property should go to the State of Texas under provisions of House Bill 5, covering abandoned property, since its owner has been untraceable for seven years or more.

RACE IS ON

Kellis Dibrell of San Antonio told Young Republicans in Austin that the Democratic primary no longer will be a tantamount to election, now that the Republicans are gaining prominence in the State.

Dibrell has announced for lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket. He predicted that Texas voters will have a problem on May 5 when they're forced to choose between voting in the Republican or Democratic primary.

A Democrat, former Secretary of State Tom Reavley, was first man to announce for the Attorney General's office. Reavley, an Austin attorney, says he considers that office the largest, most varied and most important "law practice" in Texas.

UP TO THE COURTS

The University of Texas Board of Regents has agreed "unanimously" to let the court decide whether they should integrate dormitories.

Judge Thornton Hardie of El Paso, chairman of the regents, says a test case filed by Austin attorney Sam Houston Clinton in behalf of three Negro students has been turned over to Atty. Gen. Will Wilson. In a letter to Hardie Clinton asked the regents to integrate the facilities and escape the suit.

Hardie has accused Clinton of filing the suit for the "purpose of publicity and propaganda."

Regents originally planned to study further integration. Hardie refused to say whether the suit has changed their plans.

Students and faculty have asked the regents for dormitory integration through campus polls. Integration in athletics also has been at issue. The regents chairman says they do not want to anything that would disturb the "excellent relations" U. T. has had with other members of the Southwest Conference.

TEXTBOOKS ADOPTED

Three "Texans for America," J. Evetts Haley of Canyon, Dr. Don L. Riddle of Paris and Mrs. Joan Lay of Fort Worth, appeared before the State Board of Education this week to protest acceptance of several textbooks.

Organization had previously notified the Board of objections to 25 books on the State Textbooks Committee's recommended list. They spoke out strongly against two history books, linking the authors to subversive organizations and charging the publisher of one with cooperating with a "known subversive" in publication of a World War II booklet, "The Land of the Soviets."

After a three-hour discussion between the "Texans for America" and Board members, and statements from publishers denying the charges, Board of Education voted to adopt all books on the committee's list, except four geography books which Commissioner J. W. Edgar asked them to delete.

The Board of Education also adopted a regulation setting 18 semester hours of education courses as the minimum required for a teaching certificate in Texas.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Figuers There's Profit In Education, The Same As There Is In Fertilizer

Dear editor:

I never object to a new idea. I don't do anything about one, haven't done anything especially about the old ones, but I don't mind one being brought up.

Consequently, I was very interested in an economist's idea the other day that the government ought to pay college students to go to school. He said it would show a profit, that the difference in what a college graduate earns over what a non-college man earns would amount to enough to pay the government back in increased income taxes, hence the program wouldn't really cost anything. I guess it's like putting fertilizer on a crop; the cost of the fertilizer is more than made up in increased yields, if you don't mind me putting higher education and fertilizer in the same economic bracket. Although understand I haven't checked with universities or the fertilizer people either about this.

I got to thinking about this idea, along with another idea I also read, namely that the old age pension level be lowered from 65 to 45.

Here's the way the two ideas would work: Public schools and parents would take care of a person until he finished high school, then the government would pay him to go to college for four more years, with maybe a year or two of graduate work thrown in. Then with a year or two in the army or Peace Corps, this would get him up to the age of say 25. Then he'd be on his own till 45, and I don't think this is unreasonable. Under the free enterprise system a man ought to earn his living part of the way, just to prove the system is still sound.

Any man who isn't willing to work 20 years, provided of course he's on a five-day week, six-hour day, ain't worth his salt.

This system of paying kids to go to college would enable everybody to go and would increase the national income and raise the national educational level, although of course it wouldn't improve the athletic system any, as I understand athletes are already being paid to go to college. I guess though we could raise their pay, just to keep the thing in balance.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.
